

Name _____

The most important thing about a _____

But the most important thing about a _____ is that you

Adapted from The Important Book by Margaret Wise Brown.

Student samples adapted from The Important Book.

The most important thing about a car is that it takes you anywhere. It has seats, a radio, holders, wheels, and a trunk. You can take friends, family, or even your aunts and uncles on a ride. You can go to Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, New York, and even more places. But the most important thing about a car is that it takes you anywhere. James

The most important thing about homework is that you learn at home. It gives you a thing to do, you can also do it with friends, and you find a reason to use your pencil. But the most important thing about homework is that you learn at home. Adam

The most important thing about me is that I'm nice. I'm funny and I love helping others. I'm very outgoing and I like being me. But the most important thing about me is that I'm nice. Jamaría

The most important thing about recess is that you can play with friends. You can also learn new games with other people. You can make new friends, run around, and have the most fun. But the most important thing about recess is that you can play with friends. Monica